

NURSE PRACTITIONER SERVICE

HOW WE CAN SUPPORT YOU AS A RESIDENT

Hunter Primary Care's Nurse Practitioner service is person-centred and will work collaboratively with you, staff at your aged care home, your GP and other health providers involved in your care. Our nurse practitioners are in addition to your current healthcare team, and not a replacement for any existing services. Our nurse practitioners will support you to manage your healthcare goals.

Providing high quality healthcare in your aged care home

Contemporary and extensive knowledge of the aged care environment

Regular review of your medications and adjustments if needed

Working collaboratively with you, your family, your aged care home staff and your General Practitioner

Timely referrals to specialists and other healthcare providers

Reducing the need for a transfer to hospital

I am very happy with the nurse practitioner who goes to (the aged care home) and do not wish to lose the Nurse Practitioner service. We are all feeling much more supported with (my mother's) healthcare. She is now reviewed regularly, and with a new diagnosis of bowel cancer, we have had at least one emergency department presentation avoided when (the nurse practitioner) organised treatment in an outpatients department. (The nurse practitioner) has also been able to adjust antihypertensive medication when her blood pressure began to lower – again, avoiding an emergency department presentation. This service is invaluable – IT NEEDS TO CONTINUE.

Quote from resident's family member

More information

Speak to the staff at your aged care home or you can get in touch with us via the below details:

(02) 4925 2259

agedcare@hunterprimarycare.com.au

hunterprimarycare.com.au

